Five Practical Pieces of Advice for Writing Constructed Response Questions

1. Answer all parts of the question.

2. Show that you understand the pedagogical concepts related to the question.

3. Show that you have a thorough understanding of the case.

4. Support your answers with details - root your answer in theory.

5. Do not change the question or challenge the basis of the question.